Objective:

I truly enjoy working with technology and film/video. It's not only a career but also a hobby. Over the years I have become a leader in my field having worked on a number of projects in various capacities from Visual Effects Supervisor to Creative Director and Motion Graphics Artist and Broadcast Designer. Having worked for a number of companies I opened and ran a company of my own from 2007 catering to various clients on projects spanning Film, Eposodic Television, Commercial Advertising, VR, and Corporate Videos. I'm currently seeking opportunities in such capacity as a Creative Director, Motion Graphics Artist, VFX(VR/AR) capacity that might be willing to offer a willing and talented Visual Effects Artist/Designer/Creative Director the opportunity to become a part of the team and allow him to offer his experience and knowledge to those who seek it while growing his creative experience and knowledge.

Planet Blue
Santa Monica, California

June 1999 to October 2002

Position: Inferno/Flame Artist and Macintosh/PC Design and Graphics

Details of the position included knowledge of Unix based operating systems, namely Silicon Graphics, as well as specialized software used for compositing techniques and 3D animation with video and film. Specifically the position involved full and assisted oversight over online and offline compositing sessions utilizing both Discreet Inferno and Flame. Client relationship building was integral to the position and expected throughout employment. Design work was created both on devoted systems such as the Discreet Inferno and Flame as well as on traditional Mac's or PC's utilizing applications such as Adobe After Effects, Pinnacle Commotion, Discreet Combustion, Adobe PhotoShop and various other applications. Early stages of onsite logistics and visual effects supervision were also utilized on a limited number of certain projects. Integration within the team was an expected part of the position. I was solely responsible for entire online presence and support as well as the online trademark insignia. To do so, programming with HTML and JavaScript was a necessity.

Postique/Griot Post Production
Southfield, Michigan

May 1998 to April 1999

Position: Flame Artist and Macintosh Design and Graphics

Details of the position included knowledge of Unix based operating systems, namely Silicon Graphics, as well as specialized software used for compositing techniques and 3D animation with video and film. The position also entailed being comfortable in front of clientele and a knowledge of how to explain the logistics of creating a particular effect and whether or not it was feasible under the guidelines of their budget and time constraints. Being an integral member of the graphics team also required a commitment to the project as well as the ability to work as a part of a team in creating a piece, ranging from commercial spots to internal industrial videos. Being a good story-teller doesn't hurt either—knowing how to visualize an idea, explain it to others, and put it down on paper before creating it in the digital environment makes for a much better final product.

Infinite Horizons
Farmington Hills, Michigan

May 1995 to May 1999

Position: President

Details of the position included original initiative to build the business (a multimedia business specializing in four major areas, Desktop Publishing, Interactive CD-ROM, Web Creation/Internet Commerce, and Video), ability to effectively deal with clientele on a personal basis, ability to manage four other employees, and the ability to control all finances regarding and maintaining a sound business. Being the president of my own business also required me to be knowledgeable in all areas of the computer related field. It was necessary that I had a full understanding and know-how of every graphically related application on the Macintosh. It also required that I was responsible for the intrinsic details of each area that Infinite Horizons revolved around including printing, the Internet, animation, CD-ROM authoring, and video production. In addition, I also needed to be capable of effectively teaching others in specific areas that Infinite Horizons was structured around. Clientele relationships, and knowing how to make people feel comfortable in their surrounding was also a key necessity.

Forest Post Productions
Farmington Hills, Michigan

May 1997 to September 1997

Position: Assistant Editor

Details of the position included familiarity and intrinsic knowledge of the "tape room," proficiency with technical equipment, the ability to effectively use and edit with Avids in front of clientele, as well as gaining as much experience off a Flame system as time would allow. In addition, I would sit in on on-line editing sessions helping with CG overlay and assisting the editor with various tasks. I also worked in the graphics department creating various design elements and titles to be used in the edits using Macintosh and SGI based applications for projects.

Electric Image
Santa Monica, California

January 1997 to January 1999

Position: Beta Tester

Details of the position required a commitment to verify errors in the software design of applications before they were released to the consumer market. E d u c a t i o n

1995 to 1999

University of Michigan
Ann Arbor, Michigan

Bachelor of Film and Video Studies with Computer Science

As a freshman in college I placed into the graduate level Computer Art/Computer Animation classes that U of M had to offer. As a sophomore I successfully completed all available graduate classes that U of M had to offer in the area of digital animation and art. I taught classes ranging from 2D animation using applications such as Adobe After Effects to 3D Modeling and Animation courses using Electric Image 3D. All knowledge of film and video production as well as software was primarily self-taught although college allowed for the more critical approach to film and video. I made an effort to be as up to date as possible when it came to new technologies in the area of Multimedia and Video and tried to stay as knowledgeable as possible with a variety of software applications on various platforms (Macintosh, PC, UNIX). Throughout my college experience I've worked with film utilizing Arri-S, Bolex, Aaton, and Panavision cameras as well as all formats of video ranging from VHS to Panasonic D5 creating various independent films and videos. I graduated with both a Bachelor of Arts degree in Film and Video integrated with Computer Science.
